

Rutherford Public Schools Summer Reading Grades 1-3

Imagine spending the summer filled with many great adventures. You have the opportunity to travel to fantasy lands, solve mysteries, and have a good laugh through the pages of a good book. You have learned so much this year in school that many of you will be able to read the books on the Summer Reading List on your own. Others will be able to share the good times with a parent, grandparent, or older brother and sister who will read to them.

With these thoughts in mind, I have revised and expanded the suggested Summer Reading List and attempted to find books for each of you, even if you are at different reading levels and have different interests. This year, our summer reading lists are located on line at the Rutherford Board of Education web site. Just go to www.rutherfordschools.org, click on the Board of Education button and look for the SUMMER READING section. Here you will find lists for grades 1, 2 and 3. Print out the list for the grade you will be in on September 2, 2009.

For all students entering grades one through three, your summer reading is for enjoyment and love of reading. You may choose other books by the authors listed. I hope you will read several books and will be ready to share some of your summer reading with your classmates when school begins in September. Have a wonderful vacation, and get ready to add to your summer adventures by reading!

Happy reading!
