Read Across Rutherford

READ ACROSS AMERICA week!

NEA's Read Across America Day is Monday, March 2, 2026. Read Across America is aimed at opening up the world of reading to children in every community!

To help promote a community of readers at the Kindergarten Center we will be participating in a Reading Across Rutherford Project. Students will be encouraged to find something they can read or a favorite place they may read in town and share a picture of it with us.

Ideas Include: reading a stop sign, a dinner menu, a store front, or reading their favorite book in a waiting room or at a park. The options are endless! We are encouraging our students to see the wonderful opportunities for reading that are within our community.

Please attach a photo of your child reading to the provided template and have your child write a sentence about where they like to read.

Example: I like to read at the Rutherford Library.

We are encouraging students to participate in this exciting activity of "Reading Across Rutherford" and will share their photos throughout the week and display them throughout our school!

Please return all projects by Friday, February 27.

Thank you and happy reading! ☺
