English 307/407

I. Introduction/Overview/Philosophy

The purpose of the English 307/407 course is to enable the student to write with competence, to read with understanding, to speak with precision and, most importantly, to think creatively and critically. The course is designed to meet the individual needs of the special education student as he/she prepares for future educational goals and challenges. The literature portion of the course alternates each year between the study of American Literature and themed units. Students will be taught to analyze and predict aspects of the text. To encourage critical thinking, varied tools of learning will be incorporated. Technological materials including video tapes, computer programs, and audio equipment will be utilized.

To accomplish proficiency in the language area, students will be given opportunities to incorporate vocabulary and the writing process to convey their message. Throughout the course, students will be encouraged to use the concepts, themes, and activities to better comprehend themselves and their world. In addition, students will be preparing for the state standardized tests and the SAT.

The English 307/407 course fulfills the eleventh grade and twelfth grade requirements for English.

NEW JERSEY STUDENT LEARNING STANDARDS
ENGLISH LANGUAGE ARTS

Grades 11-12

The standards define general, cross-disciplinary literacy expectations that must be met for students to be prepared to enter college and workforce training programs ready to succeed. The K–12 grade-specific standards define end-of-year expectations and a cumulative progression designed to enable students to meet college and career readiness expectations no later than the end of high school.

Students advancing through the grades are expected to meet each year’s grade-specific standards, retain or further develop skills and understandings mastered in preceding grades, and work steadily toward meeting the more general expectations described by the standards.
